

New Christ Church Primary School

Newsletter 28th May, 2010

This week at NCC...

Ahoy! We've gone pirate mad today in Red and Orange class. The children came dressed up to celebrate their topic work this term, there was lots of pirate talk and great drama today, fortunately no-one was made to walk the plank!

The sun has arrived at last. Please make sure that on sunny days, your child has sun cream on them before they come to school or that they bring sun cream with them in a named container that will be kept in the main office. Children need to be responsible for putting on their own sun cream so please practice over half term.

The Friends of New Christ Church held a very successful Cake and second hand uniform sale yesterday and raised an amazing £92. The cakes looked delicious and all went very quickly. Thanks to the small number of Friends who continue to work hard to organize these events for the children.

Road Safety

This morning there was very nearly an incident on Spring terrace, just next to the school, when a child who had sensibly crossed the road, then became distracted and ran straight back across the road into the path of a car.

Fortunately the car was driving very slowly and cautiously and so stopped in time. This gave all of us a massive shock at the thought of what could have happened.

All the classes today have spent some time revising road safety, please reinforce this at home during half term so that we can keep our children safe.

Milman Road has been very busy and dangerous again this week, after a quiet and safer 'Walk to school week'. It would be safer and healthier if car drivers could continue parking further away from school so we can keep all the children as safe as possible.

Head.newchristchurch@reading.gov.uk
 www.newchristchurchprimaryschool.org.uk

Congratulations to...

Janyaa, Thalia and Saima—who all received a Gold certificate in mathematics this week.

Don't forget...

- Inset day on Monday 7th June. Children to return to school on Tuesday 8th June.

Some of our children are going on the Ufton Court residential during half term, we look forward to hearing all about it on their return.

Wishing you a peaceful and safe bank holiday weekend and half term,

Class photographs

We would very much like to hear your views on the new class photographs. Please can you write your comments below and let us know whether next year you would prefer the more traditional style photograph or the new contemporary photographs.

Child's Name _____

Class _____

Traditional photograph

Contemporary (new style) photograph

Comments: